W. P. WALTON.

MT. VERNON DEPARTMENT.

Managed by Jno. B. Fish.

—Geo. W. Baker is smiling over the advent of a daughter. She will be called Rebecca.

—Oae by one the old land marks are disappearing. C. W. Adams is having the old locust taken up from before his door. This old tree has been standing for many years. Sugar trees are being set out in place of the old locusts.

—Alex. Potet was arrested and placed in jail last Saturday charged with stealing about 50 pounds of tobacco from Jas. Roberts. The tobacco was in the "hands" and was found covered up in a stack pen close to where Potet was at work. People generally don't believe Alex. to be guilty.

—Miss Cleo Williams is on the sick list this week. Messrs. C. Crooke, C. S. Nield and Geo. W. Colbert, of Altamont, spent Sunday in town. Jas. Maret has returned from a business visit to Lancaster and Richmond. W. B. Ramsey, of London, was in town yesterday. Mr. Will Sparks, of Louisville, was here Sunday. Mr. E. J. Lowery, of Virginia, is in town to-day. (Monday). Messrs. Jack Adams, Jr., and S. W. Paris have returned from the cities where they went to buy spring goods. F. L. Thompson has gone to Louisville this week to purchase a large stock of goods, about which he will inform his customers through this column.

—Kentucky Past and Present

The State Capital was removed to Lexington June 4, 1792.

The first constitution of Kentucky was adopted April 19, 1792.

The first train to enter Louisville was from Lexington in 1801.

The present constitution of Kentucky was adopted June 11, 1850.

The first nail factory in Kentucky was established at Lexington in 1807.

The State received $30,000 net revenue in the last two years from hiring out convicts.

In 1816 the Eastern Lunatic Asylum, the first one in the State, was built at Lexington.

The first race course in Kentucky was organized and still exists at Lexington, July 19, 1826.

The present warden system of the penitentiary was established by an act of the Legislature May 3, 1854.

The first newspaper published west of the Alleghany Mountains was by John Bradford, at Lexington, in 1787.

The Governor of Kentucky must be thirty-five years old, serve four years, and is ineligible for the next four years.

Kentucky is now ninety three years old, and yet there are thousands of her citizens who know very little about her.

Of the number of prisoners in the penitentiary at Frankfort for the year 1884, nearly two thirds of them could neither read or write.

The Governor and Auditor estimate the expense of convening the Legislature in a called session would cost the State $150,000.

Senators are chosen for four years, and must be thirty-eight years of age and a resident of the State six years, and one year in the district.

The first lodge of Free Masons in the West was organized in Lexington November 17, 1788—No. 25, now known as Lodge No. 1.

According to the present constitution of Kentucky slavery still exists in this State the constitution not having been changed since 1851.

The constitution says the credit of this Commonwealth shall never be loaned in aid of any person, corporation, association, or municipality.

The first election under the present constitution for judges and clerks of the Court of Appeals took place on the second Monday in May, 1851.

Cows should be turned out a little while every day for exercise, no matter how cold the weather may be. If confined in stables day and night they can not develop heat to resist chilling winds, and will shiver at the slightest draught of air. Farmers recognize the necessity for exercising horses in winter, but a small amount of exercise is equally important for cows.

FREE DISTRIBUTION.

The free distribution of sample bottles of Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup, the most popular remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchitis now on the market. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

Tender Memories.

The following lines found in the North-western Commercial Traveler will touch a responsive chord in many hearts: "I saw my wife pull out the bottom drawer of the old bureau this evening, and I went softly out and wandered up and down until I knew she had shut it and gone to her sewing. We have some things laid away in that drawer which the gold of kings could not buy, and yet they are relics which grieve us until both our hearts are sore. I haven't dared to look at them for a year; but I remember each article. They are two worn shoes, a little chip hat with part of the rim gone, some stockings, pants, a coat, two or three spoons, bits of broken crockery, a whip and several toys. Wife, poor thing, goes to that drawer every day of her life and prays over it, and lets her tears fall upon the precious articles, but I dare not go. Sometimes we speak of little Jack, but not often. It has been a long time, but somehow we can't get over our grieving. Sometimes when we sit alone, I writing and she sewing, a child in the street will call out as our boy used to do, and we both start up with beating hearts and a wild hope, only to find the darkness greater burden than ever. It is still and quiet now. I look up to the window where his blue eyes used to sparkle at my coming, but he is not there. I listen for his patting feet, his merry shout and his ringing laugh, but there is no sound. There is no one to search my pockets and tease me for presents, and I never find the chairs turned over, the broom down, or ropes tied to the door-knobs. I want some one to tease me for my knife, to ride on my shoulder, to lose my ax, to follow me to the gate when I go, and be there to meet me when I come home; to call 'good night' from the little bed now empty. And wife she misses him still more. There are no little feet to wash, no prayers to say, no voice teasing for lumps of sugar, or sobbing with the pain of a hurt foot; and she would give her life almost to awake at midnight and look across at the crib and see our boy there as he used to be. So we preserve our relics, and when we are dead we hope that strangers will handle them tenderly, even if they shed no tears over them."

The Whipping-Post.

The re-establishment of the whipping-post in Kentucky becomes a question of increasing interest as the legislative canvass progresses. Already a number of candidates have declared themselves in its favor, meeting the approval of some of the best county papers, and it is probable that a whipping-post bill will be offered at the next session. Such a bill failed of passage a few years since only through the vote of the President of the Senate. Meanwhile the evils which suggest the need of a whipping post have increased, rather than diminished, so that it need not be unexpected if the lash should be resorted to as a punishment for petty crimes. At present imprisonment in the penitentiary is imposed for crimes of such low degree that this institution is always overcrowded. The county jails, too, are seldom lacking for inmates. They rather seem to be desirable retreats for many worthless characters who feel no shame at being prisoners, while being well fed in idleness is preferred to labor of any kind.

It is not surprising that the prevalence, in so many sections, of petty thieving and other crimes against which the ordinary penalties have no effect, should lead honest citizens to favor any measure promising relief. The whipping-post will be opposed by many on general principles, but these objections have failed to suggest any measure more desirable which can be depended upon as effective. The question now seems to be whether Kentuckians will submit longer to the annoyances we have described in preference to the sentimental objection that the whipping-post is barbarous.—[Louisville Commercial.]

Gov. McCREARY.

The fresh color of Senator Eastie is well matched by that of McCreary, of Kentucky, who is a member of the next House. He has been in Washington in the last few days. I never have seen a Southern man with a more perfect complexion. McCreary's face is as clear as that of a schoolboy. His color is as fresh as that of a resident of Montreal. His eyes are a coal-black. His hair is the blackest I have ever seen. It falls in straight lines upon each side of his good-natured face. It is only from the West and Southwest that you see men with hair falling in straight masses upon each side of the face. This is where Gen. Logan learned the fashion of wearing his hair. McCreary dresses in spotless black. His linen is as fresh and clean as his complexion. It is a pleasant sight to look at such a man as McCreary. His record is a very good one. He is a great addition to the next House. He is a man of many requirements and is said to have much of the eloquence of his distinguished relative, the late Senator McCreary.—[N. Y. World.]

WHERE NOT TO START A PAPER.

In his letter to the amateur journalists, Robert J. Burdette offers some sage advice regarding the starting of newspapers. Says he:

If he starts a newspaper in a town where nobody wants a paper;

Or where there are already five papers in a two-paper town;

Or, if a long primer man tries to start a nonpareil paper;

Or, if he tries to run an eight-column paper on a two-column basis;

Or, if he skin his home advertisers and cut rates for foreign ads;

Or, if he start out by giving a $3 puff for a 10-cent comb;

Or, if he start a paper because he has failed at everything else;

Then, indeed, hath he bitten off more than he can masticate, and his paper, beloved by the gods, will die young and fresh.

NEURALGIA CURE.

A gentleman who had been a great sufferer from neuralgia reports that he was cured by tobacco: "He got him a few leaves, dipped them in hot water and bandaged his head with them and in ten minutes was entirely relieved, slept well all night, and has not felt the slightest touch of pain since." This is certainly worth a trial. We should be glad to have a report from some of our subscribers who may try it.—[Sentinel-Democrat.]

The President and faculty of Harvard College refused to grant the petition of 900 graduates, who ask that attendance at morning prayers be made voluntary for undergraduates 21 years old and over, and optional, according to the wishes of parents or guardians, for undergraduates under 21 years.

The United States has 17,000 dentists, who use a ton of gold and five tons of other metals and make 4,000,000 artificial teeth annually. Only one American in eighty is found to have perfect teeth, and one third of the population make more or less use of the artificial product.

One reason why Kate Brown of Mitchell county, Ind., couldn't drop from the window into her lover's arms was because her hoopskirt caught on a nail and held her until the old man got hold of her back hair.

Jenny June descends upon low-necked dresses, at considerable length, under the head of "The place to draw the line." The public will be only too glad to know that Jenny draws it above the waist.—[Frankfort Capital.]

GARRARD COUNTY DEPARTMENT.

Lancaster.

—Rev. W. I. Fowle, the pastor of the Christian church at this place, is seriously ill with pneumonia. There were no services at his church Sunday in consequence.

—Mr. Mitchell Burdett, a son of Mrs. Eliza Burdett, deceased, died of typhoid fever last week, in the 27 year of his age. He was a moral young man possessing the friendship of many. His remains were interred in the Lancaster Cemetery.

—Mrs. H. C. Kauffman and Little Louise are visiting relatives in Richmond this week. Miss May Wilmore, of Lexington, is visiting Miss Mamie Olds. Misses E. La and Georgie Moore, a pair of Lower Garrard beauties, are guests of Mrs. R. C. Furr's. Lieut. G. R. Bradley, of Farmdale, Ky., is visiting his father, Col. W. O. Bradley.

—O! last Friday, death again invaded the family of Mrs. Eliza Burdett, deceased, claiming as its victim Miss Anna Burdett, a young lady who was known and beloved for her many excellent qualities. At an early age she became a member of the Christian church and all who knew her bear witness that she never turned aside from the path of a pure and devout Christian. After a funeral sermon by Eld. Zolters her remains were interred in our quiet city of the dead. To the bereaved sister and brothers we join their many relatives and friends in a heartfelt sympathy. Your loss has been great but it was her gain. She passed on before that she might lure you on; that your path might ever lead heavenward.

—An exceptionally elegant impromptu hop was given by the German Club at Odd Fellow's Hall last Friday evening. A good attendance and excellent music, dispensed by an Italian Orchestra from Louisville, made the evening very enjoyable to the many young people present. The following is a list of the participants: Miss Mary Annie Wilmore, Nicholasville, Misses Katie Mason, Nell Duncan, Ella Watson, Mamie Olds, Berrie Collier, Leila and Althea Markbury, Juliet Gill, Lynn Irvine and Mattie Brown, Lancaster, and Messrs. McKee, Briggs, Craft, Smoot, Denny, Fox, Harlan, Dugan, and Wiseman, of Danville, Breck, Burnam, Harris and Dunn, of Richmond, and Messrs. Kinnaird, Landrum, West, Stormes, Kee Kinnaird, Orsley, Johnston, Dabean, Walker and Logan Lancaster.

The Success of a Creamery.

One of our exchanges has this reported success of the creamery at Lebanon, Pa: The creamery commenced operations in November, making 100 pounds of butter per day, on the Fairbank system. The farmers were so pleased with the cooperative system that they commenced at once increasing the number of cows. In one month 500 additional cream cans were purchased and now they have ordered 200 more, and calculate by spring to add 1,000 more. "Squire Rogers, who keeps seven cows, has kept an exact account, and reports an average of $7 per cow for the cream sold each month. This is a good showing for winter milking. At the same rate "Squire Rogers" cows will yield $550 a year—money not heretofore made. It will not require exceeding twenty-one acres of land to keep the cows. The same land in wheat, at twenty bushels per acre and $1 per bushel for the wheat, would just be $420. The cost of labor of milking and caring for the cows is not so great as the cost of seedling and harvesting the wheat. In one case the land is greatly improved and in one case the thousands of creameries now in operation in this country, the demand for butter is not half supplied, and much oleomargarine is made to fill the want.—[Pittsburgh Stockman.]

A teacher in one of our schools inquired the other day if any of her scholars could give the definition of the word "dandy." This seemed a puzzler till a little boy near the front held up his hand and said: "I know what a dandy it is." "And what is it?" "He it a boy what kineth the girlth."

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind. says: "Both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." For sale by Penny & McAllister.

Something for the Baby.

What a terrible affliction about the house is a cross, crying baby! A young man on the very edge of matrimony might easily be frightened from his purpose by hearing too much of that sort of music at the house of his married friends. Yet babies cry commonly only when they are sick. One teaspoonful of Parker's Tonic gives the little one will bring rest and sleep to the baby and all the house. Only 50c at druggists.

BOURNE!

"O, don't you remember sweet Alice, Ben Bolt?" "Her bright smile haunts me still!"

"Yes, I saw her last at Dr. Bourne's Drug Store." No wonder, she got her paint from Bourne.

"O, write me a letter from home," "John Anderson, my Joe John, you hair is like the snow—your eye is dim!"

"And get the stationery from Bourne." Tell the old coon to go to Bourne's and get some of his hairdressing and a pair of Le More's celebrated Rock Crystal Specs."

"I wonder if she loves me?" "Shall I never more behold thee?"

"I wonder if you buy your beautifiers from Bourne." "Yes, and in good health, for I get my medicine from Bourne."

"Blossom bloom and then they wither." "What are the wild waves saying?"

"The perfumes are made into extracts for Bourne." Bourne, Bourne, Bourne, Bourne!

"Kathleen Mavourneen, the gray dawn is breaking!"

"I'm glad of it; Bourne has so many nice goods I want to take the whole day purchasing."

Then, Katy darling, do tell Lilly Dale to put Pick a Poo in Aunt Reddy's old arm chair and sing "Rock me to sleep, mother," while you go to Bourne's New Drug Store and get me a Tooth Brush, some Toilet Soap, a pair of Le More's Periscope Lenses, some of his 5-cents-a-quire Letter Paper, a bottle of Vanilla for your mother, strengthening Cordial for your grandmother and some worm candy for Jeems, and go quick or I'll make you think "This cruel war is not over."

W. P. WALTON.

THE Shelby Sentinel, edited by John C. Cooper, Esq., that clerical appearing old gentleman who looks so much like a presiding elder that the chickens run and hide when he comes around, tells a story in its last issue which will make the brethren in these parts think the old man is stretching the blanket mightily since he used to teach Sunday school here. The story, or perhaps we should spell it with an I and use but two other letters, is that a six-year old boy of that county swallowed an eight-inch screw nine months ago and last week on being given an emetic for a supposed case of measles threw up the identical screw, somewhat the worse for the long attempt at digestion, but still in the ring. Now Mr. Cooper, if you want to maintain your reputation for veracity in your native county you must deny this thing over your own signature or lay it entirely on Mr. P.

In its Washington letter the New York World gives a circumstantial account of the corrupt influence which placed Mr. Stanley Matthews upon the Supreme Bench of the United States. The facts as set forth have been touched upon variously but never with such detail as therein given day. The contribution of $300,000 made to the republican campaign fund in 1880 by Jay Gould and Huntington was made with the direct understanding that Garfield should appoint Matthews to the Supreme bench as a protection to the Railway Monopolists. So it is alleged. The money was used to corrupt and carry Indiana for Garfield. There was a compact binding Garfield to appoint Matthews. There are seven witnesses to this document. Ex-Senator Platt, it is said, knows all about it. May we not hope now for some sort of investigation that will bring all the shameful facts in this case to light?

It must make those office-seekers sick at heart after spending weeks in obtaining names to a petition to the President, to learn that he stated to a distinguished caller that he had made up his mind not to be governed in the selection of men by petitions and spoke of the cheap character of such recommendations, expressing himself as satisfied that he could pick out the proper men for appointment to office by a different and far better method of choosing. "Cheap character of petitions" is good and we respectfully call the attention of Gov. Knott to it. Perhaps if he will take the trouble to inform himself he will find that petitions are really of a cheap character and that the average man will sign anything he is asked to, except it be a promise for money, and there are many who will do that, when they are sure it can't be made out of them.

A TELEGRAM from the Capital states that when Mr. Cleveland asked if there was no other office that he could give Phil Thompson but the Commission of the District of Columbia, that would satisfy him and his friends, it "discouraged Mr. Carlisle, made Joe Blackburn mad, disgusted Jack Cain, who is the principal worker here for Thompson, and sent Randall and Joe Miller and protection clear up." This is terrible if true. It is bad enough to have Mr. Carlisle become discouraged; Joe Blackburn's wrath is not to be sneezed at, but Jack Cain's disgust must threaten the President. Bessie man he must be to attempt to thwart the wishes of this distinguished trio and Kentucky, through us, demands that he at once resign and go into his hole.

"VICE PRESIDENT HENDRICKS has subjected himself to very severe criticism by signing the petition of Mr. J. S. Miller, of West Virginia, Phil Thompson's rival in the contest for the Internal Revenue Commission." says the Quarter Journal, but we suppose the criticism comes mainly from the whisky ring. Mr. Hendricks has the undoubted right to sign anybody's petition he chooses and if he does not see as much in Mr. Thompson as those who are making themselves ridiculous in his behalf, there is certainly nothing to warrant a questioning of his integrity about it.

GAMBLING, which had almost become a legitimate business in Louisville because of the failure of the authorities to enforce the law against it, has been suddenly and ruthlessly checked by an order from the Chief of Police to close every den from the hotel to the palace. The Commercial claims the glory of bringing about the public sentiment which demanded that the order be made, and so far as we are able to see deserves all it claims.

SECRETARY MANNING has begun the promised and very necessary work of reform in the Treasury department by discharging six special agents; 26 special inspectors of customs and ten employees, which will make a saving of over $40,000 yearly. Let Mr. Manning continue the good work and the tax payers of the country will rise up and call him blessed, but the office-seekers won't hold him in very great reverence.

FALCON's letters in the Louisville Times are all real gems of literature, but the one in Saturday's paper in which he sketches Arthur and Cleveland, seems to us the climax of gracefulness and beauty. The Times made a master stroke when it secured the services of the brilliant and trenchant yet gentle Soule Smith.

Gov. PIERCE, of Dakota, need expect no quarter from the strong-minded women. The Legislature passed a bill granting females the right of suffrage, but he promptly vetoed it, to his credit be it said. No womanly woman wants to dabble in politics and the other kind deserves no consideration.

Mr. BLAINE called at the White House Saturday and paid his respects to the President. They had never met before, but their intercourse was as free as if they had not recently measured swords in one of the hottest political campaigns of the age. On parting Mr. Blaine said, "Mr. President, I sincerely hope that the country may be prosperous and contented under your administration and I trust you will find your life in Washington one of personal happiness." Mr. Cleveland thanked Mr. Blaine for his cordial expressions and assured him that between them personally there could only be kindly feeling. This is indeed an era of good feeling.

We notice that Mr. W. T. Price, author of "Barney's Life," has written a play entitled "My Old Kentucky Home," which is shortly to be produced in Louisville by Effie Ellsler. Like all of Mr. Price's productions it is said to possess a scholarly finish and an originality most charming. His friends in Louisville are anxiously awaiting its rendition.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—At a sale of rare flowers in London, an orchid in bloom sold for £131 or $655.

—A mob took three negroes from the jail at Union City, Tenn., and hung them for murder.

—Mary H. Conkling, sister of Roscoe Conkling, died in Rochester N. Y., Thursday, aged 60.

—It is generally believed in Washington that ex-Senator Pendleton will succeed Minister Lowell.

—The new Senate stands 41 republicans to 34 democrats, with Illinois to hear from. The House has 182 democratic members and 149 republicans.

—President Wright announces that the Southern Exposition of 1885 at Louisville will open on Saturday, Aug. 15, and close on Saturday, Oct. 24.

—Congressman-elect J. D. Richardson, of Tennessee, will be the tallest member of the next House. He stands nearly seven feet in his stocking feet.

—The republican Senators show a strong determination to sit squarely down on anything like a dismissal of officials, simply because they are republicans.

—Mackin, of Chicago, for tampering with the returns of an election in Chicago, has been sentenced to the Joliet penitentiary for two years and to pay a fine of $5,000.

—The news from Europe tends to the belief that war between England and Russia may at any moment be precipitated by the movement of the Russians into the Afghan territory.

—Many of the applicants for office who went to Washington to present their claims in person are now leaving for home, satisfied that the President intends moving slowly in making changes.

—While the thermometer was 30° below zero in Vermont Friday, a thunder storm was prevailing near Shelbyville, Tenn., during which one man was killed by lightning and several others severely burned.

—A mob did a creditable act at Independence, Kansas, when they took Frank Bonham, charged with the murder of his mother, brother and sister, and hung him to the railroad trestle. There was no doubt about him guilt.

—Secretary Bayard has notified the clerks in the State Department that they need have no fear of losing their positions through a change of administration, as he did not propose to dismiss any one except for neglect of duty.

—The five Kentucky Congressmen who voted against balloting upon the Kentucky applicants were Messrs. Blackburn, Robertson, McCree, Halseell and Laddon. Senator Beck was Chairman, and was not called upon to vote.

—We do not see in the whole range of possible appointments anything surer to make mischief and invite scandal than selection of ex-Congressman Philip B. Thompson, Jr., of Kentucky, for Commissioner of Internal Revenue.—[N. Y. Sun.]

—On a train near Chattanooga, D. J. White's nose began bleeding and he put his head out of a car window in order not to spoil the seats, and at that instant the train crossed a bridge. White's head struck the side of the bridge and his skull was severed at the eyes.

—The officers of the Tennessee Penitentiary, who sued the editor of the Nashville Banner for $60,000 damages because he charged them with inhuman treatment of the convicts, the sale of dead bodies to medical students and the perversion of office to their private interests, got a judgment for $51 and costs.

—Congressmen Willis and Robertson, of Kentucky came near having a personal encounter Friday on the street. The trouble grew out of the resolution offered by Willis in regard to the choice of Kentuckians for federal offices, which was proposed in a caucus of the Kentucky delegation, and opposed by Robertson. The latter lost his temper, and used some very harsh language, but friends interfered and prevented the quarrel from assuming a serious phase.

—The amount of business transacted by the Washington office of the Western Union Telegraph Company during the week ended March 7, last, was greater than any previous inaugural week in the history of the office. In the week of the inauguration in 1881 the number of words of press matter sent was 600,080, and private messages 72,300. In the recent inaugural week the number of words of press matter handled was 817,276, and private messages 87,910—an increase of more than 217,000 words of press and nearly 16,000 messages over the corresponding week of 1881.

—Nineteen factories employing 1,000 men are being run in the little city of Richmond, Ind., all making roller skates.

—Jacob Harper, who recently married a rich young lady near Atlanta, and was highly esteemed, died on Friday night. While preparing his body for burial a snake was found on his leg. His wife, even, did not know of its existence. He has been identified as an escaped convict.

CRAB ORCHARD, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—W. E. Kennedy was the lucky holder of a fifth ticket in the last La. Lottery drawing that drew $500.

—Born to the wife of J. H. Collier on the 13th inst., twins, a boy and a girl, weighing respectively 7 and 8 pounds.

—W. R. Dillion bought 3 No. 1 mare mules in Laurel county last week for $400, and sold one of the number to Robt. Lund for $175, and a horse mule to the same party for $125.

—Unknown parties bored in at the front door of G. W. James' store house last Saturday night. Their purpose seemed to be to secure money; fortunately none was left in the drawer. Mr. James hasn't been able as yet to miss any goods. It is thought that the parties must have been regular professionals, from the manner in which they made their entrance.

—The boys have organized a Debating Society with some 19 members, under the style of C. O. Literary and Debating Society. The following gentlemen were elected officers: Dr. W. M. Doores, President, Frank Wayman V. P., Hal Moore, Sec'y, and Treas. The books are still open for membership. The society meets every Monday night at the district school house; every body invited.

—The democratic candidates for nomination for Representative all put in their appearance here last Saturday and each delivered himself of a speech, and seemed to have his following. Each of the candidates have improved considerably in speech-making, and by the time the nomination is made, no doubt that all will have become great orators. Mr. J. H. Miller complained to the county committee-man for this precinct as to the appointment of W. O. Hansford as a judge of the primary election as there was no very good feeling between the above named gentlemen; the matter was laid before Judge Hansford and he declined to act any further and Judge J. F. Higgins was selected in his stead, which seemed to be satisfactory with all the candidates. After the candidates were through speaking W. O. Hansford was called for to give an account of his trip to Washington City and a history of the inauguration as it was seen by himself; this he did in a brief, concise manner, and was enjoyed by all present and especially by those who had not read an account of the eventful occasion.

—The trustees of the Broadway M. E. Church will offer for sale to-day (Monday) the house and lot cor. 4th and Broadway.

—Miss Mittie Bent gave a progressive euchre party Tuesday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. O. Goodloe on 4th street.

—Harry, the little son of Mr. J. O. Evans on whom Dr. J. C. Bogle performed the operation of trephotomy for crump is doing well with a good prospect for recovery.

—A. P. Wilson has sold the western half of the Central House and grounds to P. Mannini for $4,000. Mr. Mannini will keep a confectionary in the room now occupied by Mr. Wilson as a grocery and sit up the old hotel dining room for a restaurant.

—A Tea was given by the Ladies Missionary Society of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at the residence of Mr. W. L. Caldwell, this county. It was a very pleasant affair and was attended by a large number of young folks and married people of the vicinity.

—At a meeting of the Sophomore class at Centre College, held Friday, Mr. F. M. Wilson, of Platte City, Mo., was elected President of the class, Chas. D. Grubbs, of Mt. Sterling, Secretary, E. M. Green, Jr., of Danville, Treasurer, and W. L. Clark, of Bloomington, Ill., Class Historian.

—Mrs. Harvey Glass, of Richmond, is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. Downton. Mrs. Wm. Ayres, of Louisville, is visiting her father, Mr. Richard Givens. Mr. Morris Long has charge of the colored department of the Deaf Mute Institute.

—Bm Blakeman, who has been teaching school in Jessamine county, is at home again. Mr. C. P. Cecil will soon erect a handsome residence on his farm near town.

—Mrs. J. H. Wilson left Saturday on a visit to the family of Mr. Thos. D. Hill, of Lincoln county. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harding left Friday on a visit to friends in Atlanta. They will visit the New Orleans Exposition before they return. Miss Annie Coons, of Lexington, and Miss Mary Owsley, of Woodford, are spending a few days with Mrs. M. B. McAllister. Mr. Jas. F. Zimmerman, of the Advocate, who has been ill with typhoid fever, is now able to walk about his room. Mrs. Allen Duncan, of Nicholasville, is here on a brief visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Proctor.

—Mrs. Mattie Friable, of Lancaster, was here the latter part of the week, the guest of her brother, Mr. W. C. Price. Mr. Wm. Guest, of Charleston, Illinois, has gone to his home after spending a week with his brother, Mr. Jacob Guest of this county. Dr. B. W. Danlap left Monday for Shelbyville to visit his sister, Mrs. James Fisher, who is in feeble health. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gaitskill have gone to their plantation near Selma, Alabama, where they will spend the spring. Mr. J. W. Guest, Jr., a student in the office of Dr. L. S. McMurtry, has gone to Louisville to study practical anatomy at the Kentucky School of Medicine.

—There seems to be no good reason to doubt that Boyle county is badly infested by ghosts. As Messrs. John Crowder and Joseph McDowell, two well-known and reputable young men, were driving last Friday night on the Parkville road between Parkville and Parkville, a dark object which appeared to have one blazing eye, suddenly sprang at their horses head. The horse had been well-known for gentleness, women and children driving it on all occasions with perfect confidence, but ever since the occurrence of Friday night the animal has been in a state of terror, which nothing can subdue. The dark object referred to jumped or sprang toward the horse and then instantly disappeared, the young men know not where, but they do know the object was of frightful appearance and that their horse has not yet gotten over his scare. About one mile from where the above occurrence is located there is a gate on the farm of Mr. Caldwell through which no one can pass at night with a lighted lantern. This was tested repeatedly a few nights ago by Messrs. James Knox and Jno. Crowder. The night was perfectly still and the lantern would burn until within a few feet of the gate when it would suddenly go out. Lighted within ten feet of the gate in either direction it burned without interruption. Excitement over these mysteries is constantly increasing.

NOTABLE PORTRAITS

OF MEN MADE PROMINENT BY CURRENT EVENTS.

The New Commissioner of Pensions, President Cleveland's Law Partner and the Notorious Adventurer of the Sudan.

JOHN C. BLACK.

The first act of Mr. Lamar as secretary of the interior was the appointment of Gen. John C. Black of Danville, Illinois, to the commission of pensions. Gen. Black is a noted lawyer in the West, and served during the war with the 37th Illinois Regiment. He has been prominent in Illinois politics, having been the Democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor in 1872. In 1879 he was a candidate for the United States Senate in opposition to Gen. John A. Logan. The position to which he is called has been vacant for several months.

The Danger of Good Looks.

[Bill Nye.]

As a general thing, great men are not beautiful. The pretty young man has really but one avenue open to him in the world's great race. If he cannot make a tough old hearse, whose father has got the pip, he has very little chance in the mighty struggle of life. If my son should show any signs of great physical beauty, having taken them from his mother's side of the house, I would immediately hump my back ready to bear a great burden; for, judging from the world's history, his father-in-law and I would have to take a turn about in maintaining the young man and his cumulative family.

The Adventurer who Directs the Mahdi.

OLIVER PAIN.

Nine years ago there was in New York city a young man who has since proved himself one of the foremost adventurers of our time. He was a refugee Frenchman, and had been an actor in the communist revolt in Paris in 1871. For this he was sentenced to the penitentiary of New Caledonia, but escaped from there in company with Rochefort and shortly after appeared in New York. He then dropped out of sight until the Russo-Turkish war. We again hear of him as private secretary to Osman Pasha at the siege of Plevna. When Plevna fell he was captured by the Russians and offered to the French government. The latter refused to protect him on account of his having been an escaped convict, and let him to his fate, so he was condemned to death as a spy. Some time later he was distinguished as a journalist, but again disappeared, until it is now known that he is the mysterious "Irishman" who has so successfully guided the Mahdi in resisting the British in the Sudan, resulting in the loss of Gordon and Khartoum.

President Cleveland's Law Partner.

WILSON S. BISSELL.

Wilson S. Bissell weighs 220 pounds. He also wears a 7 1/2 hat, which, it is unnecessary to say, covers a large head in more senses than one. He has been on intimate terms with Cleveland for 20 years. He is a lawyer of high standing at the bar in western New York and was Cleveland's former law partner. He is a graduate of Yale college, and before his marriage was one of that coterie of "back-brothers" of whom so much was written about during the campaign.

He Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

[Chicago Tribune.]

"Why are you like the moon, Nickup?" said his friend Bates. "I give it up," answered Nickup. "Well, because your face is always bright and looking with good nature," said Bates. "That ain't bad; I'll just tell that to my wife when I get home," said Nickup, and then he winked at the bartender and told him to "set 'em up again."

"Mary," said he when he reached home that evening, "Why am I like the moon?" "What is it?" she sharply asked. He repeated the question. "Because you are full every month in the year," she answered, and winked.

WHERE PRESIDENT CLEVELAND WAS BORN.

The birthplace of Mr. Cleveland is the first house that is seen in the little village of Caldwell, N. J., approaching from Montclair, and is situated on the left hand side of the road. For years the old-fashioned house, with its quaint gable ends and ivy-covered porch, has only attracted the attention of the villagers as the parsonage of the First Presbyterian church, but lately it has become more interesting. Mr. Berry, the present pastor, recently gave the following interesting account of the place: "This," he says, "is the house in which Mr. Cleveland was born. It was first occupied by Stephen Grover, a former pastor of the church. In 1844 Mr. Grover resigned the pastorate and Richard F. Cleveland was called on May 13 of the same year. Mr. Cleveland had many children, one of whom, William N., became a minister and went to Long Island. In the old church baptismal record we find the record of the birth and baptizing of 'Stephen Grover Cleveland, baptized July 1, 1837; born March 18, 1837.' During his six years' pastorate," continued Mr. Berry, "Mr. Cleveland's father had a child baptized every year. The room the President was born in is now used as a library. It is about fifteen feet square, with two windows and a low ceiling."

THE BIRTHPLACE OF THOMAS A. HENDRICKS.

Our illustration shows the birthplace of Vice-President Hendricks, which, until recently, stood on the Michigan turnpike near the town of Zanesville, Muskingum county, O. It was built of hewn logs by the father of Thomas A., who combined the pursuits of tanner and farmer. When young Tom was a boy his father erected a story and a half brick building a little north of this hewn log structure, and Tom drove the oxen for the transportation of the necessary material. The lad led the life of a farmer's boy, and his father soon abandoned the tanning business. It was around this frontier house that young Hendricks worked in the summer, but developing more aptitude for study than soil tilling, his father allowed him to attend a distant village school in winter.

America Still Ahead.

[Daily Graphic.]

If Christ had not died for thee thou hadst been damned. Dobbin was the name of a man in England in the days of the Roundheads, but Dorchester county, Md., presents two names almost as odd. The owners of the names still live near Cambridge, on the Choptank. They are "Julia Jane Augusta Dominica Rustis Ro Bo Bustis Jack" and "John Henry Land Runner Runout and Surveyor Bendanna Beaver Dam Rendezvous God Bless Bustis."

The Aggression of the Russian Bear.

MAP OF TERRITORY ABSORBED BY RUSSIA.

The above map shows clearly the sections of a country that Russia has at different times assumed control of in her southward march into Asia toward the frontier of India. It will be seen that the situation revealed by recent telegrams, and which excites so much anxiety at London and Calcutta, is the inevitable outcome of a deliberately planned and firmly prosecuted movement. In 1826 it will be seen, the largest sections of territory was annexed, and the subsequent acquisitions in 1863-67-74-76-81 and '84 grow smaller as the danger of alarming the British lion increases. It is evident that Russia is endeavoring to obtain an outlet to the Arabian sea, and taking advantage of the English's recent complications in Egypt has been quietly strengthening the acquisitions obtained up to this time with the intention of making a bold dash through Afghanistan when the opportunity should present itself. The boundary line of India, together with the location of all the strategic points with the named cities in the coming conflict, are distinctly marked on this map, which should be kept for reference. South of the city of Penikheh is a dotted line showing the boundary line between Russia and Afghanistan, which is now in dispute. At present the Russian forces, with their advanced bases of supplies at Merv and Samarkand, are while the British Foreign Office is amused with negotiations only intended to gain time, being steadily pushed onward by two distinct routes, which converge at Herat.

WHY

I did not love him long ago; Instead of "yes" I gave him "no." I did not love him; but to-day I read his marriage notice. Pray, Why was I sad, when never yet Has my heart known the least regret Over that whispered "no?" And why, Reading the notice, did I sigh? No analyst can guess the cause; A woman's reason laughs at laws. Sure I am glad to know the wound I gave has healed—that he has found Love's blessedness and peace, and yet A woman never can forget The man who once has loved her; and To-day I seem to see him stand, With every glance a mute career, Still pleading for the longest-for "yes." His early love for me is dead— Another lives in that love's stead! And if he loves her well, as men Should love their chosen ones, why, then He must be glad that, long ago, Instead of "yes" I gave him "no." Perhaps that is the reason why I read the notice with a sigh.

The Beauty of Youth.
No matter how handsome or stalwart a young man may be otherwise, nothing can make up for a partially bald head. Shining talents are attractive, but a shining scalp is not. The cause may be sickness or anything else, yet Parker's Hair Balm will stop the loss of the hair and start a new growth of glossy and soft hair so quickly as to surprise you—restoring the original color at the same time. Not a dye, not oily, delicately perfumed. Only standard 50c dressing.

CURE FOR PILES.
Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a very common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Ross's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching and affecting a permanent cure. Price 50c each. Address The Dr. Ross's Medicine Co., Piquette, Ohio. Sold by McAllister & Stage.

Stallions for 1885.
ST. MARTIN,
Sire of Emma Manly, Bob Pate, Florentine, Doubt &c., &c., will make the season of 1885 at my stable near Stanford, Ky.

AT TWENTY DOLLARS.

St. Martin is one of the most distinguished sons of Imp Phœnon, winning good races over good horses at all distances, and a few of his colts on the turf in 1884 were all seen at the front. His son, Doubt, was one of the best 2-year-olds of the year. St. Martin is the highest bred and thoroughbred horse, standing over 16 1/2 hands high, splendidly proportioned, kind as a lamb and combines the best blood of England and America. By Imp Phœnon, first dam Jockey, by Imp. Yorkshire; second dam Miss Martin, by Garrison's Zinganez, (son of Sir Archy); third dam Gabriella, by Sir Archy; fourth dam Calypso, by Belair; fifth dam (dam of Contention) by Imp. Dare Devil; sixth dam Syme's Wildcat; seventh dam Piccadilly, by Batt & Mackell eighth dam Phœnon (second dam of Phœnon); ninth dam by Imp. Holbrook; tenth dam by Imp. Jolly Ranger; eleventh dam by Imp. Valiant; twelfth dam by Traylor. Thus it is seen that his blood is enriched from the source, for he is Lexington, the great race horse and greatest of sires, and (Genesee, Yorkshire and Phœnon) renowned in the turf histories. I have put his services at the low figures to oblige my friends and neighbors and to justify breeders at a distance in setting him down, and would make a few good mares on the same. I will also stand at the same place my combined horse.
